Event Coordinator	Mr. Nayan Muragi
Duration	1
No. of Participants	58
Resource Person / Company Name	.

OBJECTIVE OF THE EVENT

To create awareness among students about the importance and necessity of voluntary blood donation.

To encourage students and staff to participate in blood donation and contribute to a noble social cause.

To promote the spirit of social responsibility, humanity and community service among students.

To motivate healthy individuals to become regular voluntary blood donors.

To help meet the requirement of blood for patients in need through voluntary donations.

To develop teamwork, leadership and organisational skills among YRC volunteers through active participation in the camp.

OUTCOME OF THE EVENT

The camp was successfully conducted with the active participation and cooperation of YRC volunteers, students and staff.

A total of 53 donors successfully donated blood, contributing significantly to the cause of saving lives.

Participants gained greater awareness about the importance of blood donation and its role in emergency healthcare.

The programme strengthened the values of humanity, compassion and social responsibility among students.

YRC volunteers developed and demonstrated teamwork, discipline, coordination and leadership skills while organising and managing the camp.

The camp encouraged students to continue participating in community-service and social-welfare activities in the future.

The programme successfully conveyed the message that one voluntary blood donation can make a meaningful difference in someone's life.
